1	English Language and Literature İngiliz Dili ve Edebiyatı	İDE5067	8	Turkish Literature in English	Spring	This is a course on literary works originally written in English and their writers with a Turkish background living out/inside Turkey with a range of texts dating from 1900s to present. Through this, the central questions will evolve around various themes such as, identity and language, gender, canonicity, aesthetics. The reflections of the reciprocal interaction between the given writers and their “home-country” (Turkey or elsewhere) is another dimension of this course in which one can seek the question of “place of attachment or belonging” and “double consciousness.” These primary materials will be read with the secondary literary criticism such as Diaspora, Multiculturalism, Modernism, Postmodernism, Cross-Cultural Encounters and Cultural Criticism.	Doç. Dr. Orkun KOCABIYIK
2	English Language and Literature İngiliz Dili ve Edebiyatı	İDE5081	8	Discourse and Empathy	Spring	This course is designed to explore the profound connections between discourse psychology and the analysis of literary texts. The course offers the participants an opportunity to delve into the intersection of language, cognition, and literature by providing the tools to analyze and interpret literary works through a psychological lens.	Doç. Dr. H. Sezgi SARAÇ DURGUN
